POPE BENEDICT XV MAKES FIRST MOVE FOR PEACE. Kaiser Sends Three Columns of Reinforcements Into France.

PLEA TO END THE VICIOUS WAR WILL BE MADE BY HOLY FATHER.

Austria and Germany Reported to Look With Favor on His Efforts for a Settlement.

Forthcoming Encyclical, the Issue of Which Has Been Delayed Until the Result of the Decisive Battle Is Known, Will Contain a Direct Exhortation That the Warriors Lay Down Their Arms—Significant Developments in Washington.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
ROME, Sept. 9.—The forthcoming Papal encyclical, the issue of which has been purposely delayed until the result of the decisive battle, will contain an appeal for peace.

Pope Benedict has approached Austria and Germany through their envoys here, and both informed the Pontiff that they are favorably disposed to second his efforts for peace. The Czar is understood to be prepared to submit the Pope's offer to the deferential consideration of Great Britain and France.

Pope Benedict hopes that his appeal may lead to an armistice which would be a prelude of peace.

THE PEACE MOVEMENT IN WASHINGTON CITY.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 9.—Serious consideration is being given in Washington to the question frequently made by the New York financiers familiar with the resources of European powers that a war of the dimensions of the present one cannot last more than a few months. The month has ended. At the time, suggestions of peace, which have been the subject of intense diplomatic speculation in Washington, upon competent authority it may be said that intimations have been made to Mr. Bryan, the Secretary of State, who has endeavored to ascertain to what extent they proceed from the powers involved in the hostilities. The diplomatic representatives of the powers have been assured. It remains to be seen whether the efforts already made will lead to negotiations which may ultimately provide a basis for mediation.

Two developments of the highest importance in the preliminary peace negotiations took place here today. First, President Wilson received a communication direct from the Emperor of Germany protesting against the use by the allies of practices contrary to the laws of war, deploring the shedding of blood and the devastation of the land. The Emperor's protest was received through a war forced upon the German Empire, and intimating a desire for peace.

Second, Sir Edward Grey, Minister for Foreign Affairs of Great Britain, sent a reply to the informal peace overture made Monday on behalf of the German Ambassador to the United States, through Oscar Straus of New York and Secretary of State Bryan, to the representatives here of the allies' governments. Sir Edward's reply substantially is as follows: Great Britain is earnestly in favor of peace. But when peace shall be made it must be made upon a lasting basis. To accomplish this most desirable end many questions of grave moment to the entire world must be permanently settled. Among these is the compensation of Belgium for the alleged violation of the neutrality of that country by Germany.

THE KAISER'S MESSAGE.
The message of the German Emperor is under date of last Friday. On the same day Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, Chancellor of the Empire, advised Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador here, that Germany had not gone into the war for further additions of territory. It is apparent there is a preconcerted movement on the part of Germany to obtain peace on the basis of the present war status quo.

To place upon the allies responsibility for the continuance of the war. To relieve Germany of the charge of wanton destruction of life and property. To explain that the wiping out of the city of Louvain was necessary as a result of the conduct of the Belgians.

DUMDUM BULLETS.
As establishing the character of the warfare conducted by the allies the Emperor refers to the use by them of dum-dum bullets, a proof of which, according to the message, exists.

Attention also is called to the action of Belgian civilians in firing upon the German forces, which necessarily called for severe punishment. The Emperor repeated the destruction of Louvain, but defends it as an act required for the safety of his army. The Emperor's purpose in sending this message was to offset the approaching visit of the Belgian commissioners sent by the King of the Belgians to describe to the President the alleged barbarous practices of the German troops.

The fact that the Kaiser had addressed a personal communication to the President has given great impetus to the peace discussion. It is not disclosed at the White House whether the Kaiser made any reference to mediation or peace. Nevertheless the tone of the message was said to be encouraging from the point of view of administration officials, who hope that the vague intimations that the time for mediation is near may result in definite action.

AS TO VIENNA.
A telegram from Petrograd says that both in Russian and foreign diplomatic quarters there it is believed that the Vienna government will have moved for peace within fifteen days, this being the only means of averting the complete breaking up of the empire.

The difficulty is that the allies are not disposed, according to the attitude reflected by their representatives in Washington, to settle on the basis of present conditions.

THE CIGARETTE IN WARFARE.

Sir John French Puffs Away as if Nothing Were Happening.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
PARIS, Sept. 9.—Soldiers returning from the front, while cautioned to say nothing calculated to inform the enemy of the positions held by the allies, are nevertheless permitted to give sidelights of events transpiring at the front. Thus the Parisians learned today that Sir John French, the commander of the English troops, co-operating with the French, continually smokes cigarettes at the front. One soldier vouches for it that Sir John put away at his cigarette as unconcernedly as one would on the parade ground.

Magnanimous.

GERMAN PRAISES BRITISH VALOR.

AVIATOR FIGHTS AIR BATTLE WITH TWO OF ENEMY.

All Three Fire at Each Other With Revolvers at Dizzy Height, but Kaiser's Officer Finally Escapes After Drawing Assaults Over Lines of Invaders.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
BERLIN, Sept. 9 (via London, Sept. 9).—Sergeant-Major Werner of the aviation corps returned today from the front after making a spirited pursuit flight over the French and British troops. Speaking of his experiences he took the opportunity to pay a tribute to the valor, bravery and daring of the British troops.

He described as his most thrilling fight one in which he battled with two aviators of the enemy, one a British biplane and the other a French monoplane. Both were much faster than his machine, which was old and battered. "My two enemies flew beside and about me for a long time," he said. "I expected momentarily that they would throw bombs, but apparently they had none. Both of them fired revolvers repeatedly in my direction, and I replied with my revolver, but none of the shots were effective. After an anxious quarter of an hour I drew them toward the German line, and they were compelled to retire."

The wires were silent today and there was no important news from either the eastern or western fronts, but the quiet is probably only a preliminary to events of great importance. The German army is reported to have made a slight advance and has successfully driven back the countercharges of the Germans. The center of the allies' lines at Vitry is reported to be holding fast. While there is little change in the military positions of the forces, yet every day marks an appreciable gain by the allies. The position of the allies is close to their districts of supply and reinforcements so that they can readily maintain their strength and even increase. The supply and reinforcement of the German army across the hundreds of miles of hostile territory is a much more difficult matter. Every day that the allies can hold their present position should result for them in a gain in relative strength.

An interesting point in recent dispatches has been the elimination by the Germans of reference to some army whose position is not allowed to be made public. This has been referred to once as an allied army, once as a French and British army and once as an army whose position must remain veiled in secrecy. If it is a force of any size its position should soon be developed by contact with the Germans.

SAYS GERMANY NEGLECTS ALLY.

AUSTRIA IN GREAT NEED, SAYS CORRESPONDENT, BUT HAS LITTLE AID.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
LONDON, Sept. 10.—Whether Germany has played the game fairly by her ally, says the Petrograd correspondent of the Post, will be decided by historians in years to come. "At present," adds the correspondent, Austria is badly in need of those heavy siege batteries and that army corps which she sent to help Germany on the French frontiers, while all we hear of German help to Austria is the one German division now retreating toward Cracow before the pressure of the Russian advance.

The conflict on the Russian front must shortly terminate in one of two ways—either the destruction or capitulation of Austria's main armies. The appearance of the German forces in the east is regarded as a "bailout device," an attempt to unmask the attitude of their governments, and accordingly scout the idea of peace until there has been a decisive issue to the war.

AS TO VIENNA.
A telegram from Petrograd says that both in Russian and foreign diplomatic quarters there it is believed that the Vienna government will have moved for peace within fifteen days, this being the only means of averting the complete breaking up of the empire.

SIXTY THOUSAND MORE GERMANS MARCHING TO FRONT NEAR PARIS.

Latest Official Dispatches Indicate Offensive Tactics of the French and English Are Successful.

Invaders Are Vaguely Reported to Be Running Short of Ammunition and Are Said to Be Experiencing Difficulties in Provisioning—Public Warned That Engagement May Last for Week or More—Russians and Austrians Still at It.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, Sept. 9, midnight.—German reinforcements estimated at 60,000 men are advancing into France in three columns, according to an Ostend dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Latest official reports from the French government indicate that the offensive tactics undertaken in the last day or two by the allied armies have had the effect of forcing the Germans back at various points in the battle line, which extends from a few miles East of Paris to Verdun, a distance of about two hundred miles.

Bordeaux reports officially that the British army has crossed the River Marne and that the Germans have fallen back twenty-five miles. The efforts of the Germans to break the French lines on the Ourcq river are likewise officially reported to have failed.

Seemingly the Germans are short of ammunition at the front and are having difficulties in provisioning and the French War Department officially announces that "on the whole the Germans appear to be beginning a movement of retreat."

The Russian and Austrian arms continue to oppose each other in a long drawn out engagement in the Lublin district, Russian Poland. An official statement issued at Petrograd declares that both Austrian and German troops have been dislodged from their fortified positions in that section and have retired towards the South.

The battlefield in France is that over which Napoleon fought in 1814, with entrenched camps on both wings and the enemy. Paris covers the left wing, Chalons the center and Verdun the right, while mobile columns of troops are ready to join in the fighting wherever the line is threatened.

Vitry-le-Francois and Montmirail seem to be the points of the chief engagements, and there the carnage has been the heaviest. The allies aim at preventing the German turning movement, with a mass of troops composed of many army corps.

Maubeuge, a French fortress, has fallen into the hands of the Germans, and according to the report the Germans took 40,000 prisoners and 400 guns.

Relative.

ALLIES' CENTER HOLDING FAST; GERMANS NOW GUARDING REAR.

BY AN ASSOCIATE EDITOR OF "THE ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL"

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 9.—The position of the opposing armies in France is practically unchanged. The extreme left flank of the allies' line has made a slight advance and has successfully driven back the countercharges of the Germans. The center of the allies' lines at Vitry is reported to be holding fast. While there is little change in the military positions of the forces, yet every day marks an appreciable gain by the allies. The position of the allies is close to their districts of supply and reinforcements so that they can readily maintain their strength and even increase. The supply and reinforcement of the German army across the hundreds of miles of hostile territory is a much more difficult matter. Every day that the allies can hold their present position should result for them in a gain in relative strength.

valued in secrecy. If it is a force of any size its position should soon be developed by contact with the Germans.

BUT FEW AIR BATTLES.
The absence in this war of battles of air fleets is noticeable, especially so in view of the many forecasts and imaginative descriptions of such warfare that were published a few years ago. The dirigible balloons seem to have proved much more vulnerable than was expected. The artillery of the allies has been especially effective in stopping their raids.

The descriptions from the battle lines show that the aeroplanes have been most effective in their special scouting service. They have solved the question that throughout history has puzzled the commanding generals. The aero corps now attached to his headquarters can quickly cover all of the country within thirty miles with a number of scouts who can report to him the presence of any large bodies of the enemy. His disposition of his slow-moving line troops can then be made accordingly. This explains the reports of aeroplanes continually covering the French frontiers, and following the movements of columns. The operations of the Germans in Northern Belgium seem to have been largely guided by such aerial reconnaissance. By their dirigibles and aeroplanes the headquarters at Brussels has constantly kept informed of the movements of the Belgian troops in the vicinity of Antwerp and also of the movement of the troops at Ostend.

GERMANS COVER RETREAT.
As long as conditions were not serious the Germans devoted all of their efforts to forwarding troops and supplies to the battle line in France. It was only when the movement of troops at Antwerp and Ostend became threatening that the Germans diverted from their main campaign sufficient forces to make the advance to Ghent, which they occupied, and are in position either to strike at Ostend or Antwerp as may be most needed.

The Russians have been held for a week to a line running from east of Koenigsberg south through Allenstein to a point west of Warsaw. After his reverse at Allenstein, Grand Duke Nicholas has waited to fully complete the strengthening of his army in this field before beginning a further advance.

In the south the Austrian army seems to have quickly recovered from the defeat at Lemberg. The Russians have so far advanced only eighteen miles west to the fortified town of Grodek. In drawing in their forces for this retreat the Austrians have abandoned all Southern Galicia to the Russians.

Paris Official Statement.

ALLIES HAVE THE ADVANTAGE IN PRELIMINARY ENGAGEMENTS.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, Sept. 9, 9:40 p.m.—The allied armies continue to have the advantage, according to French official reports, in engagements which can only be the preliminaries of a great battle extending from Meaux, northeast of Paris, to the fortress of Verdun, 120 miles farther east.

The Germans, who have brought up reinforcements, are striking at the allies' left and center between Montmirail and Vitry-le-Francois, a front of from fifty to sixty miles, but each time they have been driven back.

expected that they will strike and strike again. They are bringing their reinforcements from Chalons on the roads leading to Fere-Champenoise, Soissons and Compiègne, in the face of the French artillery poised on the heights, which give it a great advantage.

Gen. Pau, who commands the center of the French army in this district, is reported to be advancing north of Soissons towards the plateau which commands the center of the whole battlefield. On his left the British force has driven the Germans across the Grand Morin and Petit Morin rivers, towards the Marne itself, while on the extreme left the French sixth army, advancing from Paris along the Ourcq River, have had further successes and are threatening Gen. Kluck's communications.

There is a possibility that the Germans are trying to draw the allies into an attack upon the high ground that lies between the Marne and the Aisne, about Rheims, and while it is believed that some of the edge has been taken off the German defensive,

In the east the Germans so far have failed in their attempts to break across the rivers and through the hills of Argonne, between Vitry-le-Francois and Verdun, on the right wing of the allies.

Again, according to French reports, there has been no action against the Grand Couronne of Nancy and in the Vosges and Alsace the situation remains unchanged.

All this favorable news has cheered the allies, but military critics warn the public that the battle has not yet been won and that there probably will be a week or more of fighting before a decisive result is attained either way.

There is a possibility that the Germans are trying to draw the allies into an attack upon the high ground that lies between the Marne and the Aisne, about Rheims, and while it is believed that some of the edge has been taken off the German defensive,

INDIANS RALLY TO AID ENGLISH.

Rulers of Native States Reported Unanimous.

Money and Troops Are Sent by Some Potentates.

King George Thanks Colonies for Assistance.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
LONDON, Sept. 9.—In the House of Commons this afternoon, C. Roberts, one of the under secretaries of the Colonial Department, read a message from the Viceroy of India, which said that the rulers of the Indian native states, nearly 70 in number, had with one accord rallied to the defense of the empire with personal offers of aid and money, some of the native rulers of India are equipping a hospital ship.

Speaking of the expeditionary force from India, Roberts said that it contained, besides units of the regular army, contingents of the imperial service troops maintained in the larger states of India. From twelve of these states the Viceroy accepted contingents of infantry, infantry, sappers and transport, besides a camel corps from Bikanir.

The Maharaja of Mysore, he said, had placed 5000 lakhs of rupees (about $1,000,000) at the disposal of the government in connection with expenditure for the expeditionary force.

Mr. Roberts said that in addition to this gift the Maharaja of Gwalior and Bhopal had contributed large sums of money and provided thousands of horses as remounts. Maharaja of Mysore had placed 5000 lakhs of rupees at the disposal of the government in connection with expenditure for the expeditionary force.

A similar desire to help the government was expressed from countless representing religious, political and social associations of all classes and creeds. Chiefs who are at present in Europe, like the Maharaja of Baroda, have placed the whole resources of their states at the command of the government.

The septuagenarian Maharaja mentioned by Mr. Roberts is Sir Pratap Singh.

KING GEORGE'S MESSAGE.
The official information bureau today gave out a message from King George to the British colonies. It is as follows:

"During the last few weeks the peoples of my whole empire at home and overseas have moved with one mind and purpose, to confront and overthrow an unparalleled assault on the continuity of civilization and the peace of the world. The calamitous conflict is not of my seeking. My voice has been cast throughout on the side of peace. My ministers have endeavored to allay the passions of the strife and to appease differences with which my empire was not concerned. Had I pledged to which my kingdom was a party, the soil of Belgium was violated and her cities made the theatre of a warfare which threatened the extinction of my race. I should have sacrificed my honor and my empire to the liberties of my people and of mankind."

"I rejoice that every part of the empire is with me in this decision. I am proud to be the ally of the faith and the pledged word of rulers and peoples is the common heritage of the British Empire. My people in the self-governing dominions have shown beyond all doubt that they are ready to stand with me in this decision. NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Two steamships, the first to leave Southampton since the war began, arrived from that port today and three left New York for other European ports.

SHIP MAY SAIL WITHIN A WEEK.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Protracted delay of the sailing of the relief steamer Red Cross is not expected by government officials. It was said tonight after a conference with Counselor Lansing of the State Department, that the ship, prepared to return to New York tomorrow and complete his crew, employing only Americans or other neutrals by advice of the department. An effort will be made to get former enlisted men of the American navy.

It was said tonight that officials of the Hamburg-American line, owners of the steamer under charter to the Red Cross, had asked merely that the departure of the vessel be delayed if a new crew were shipped in the Red Cross, had asked merely that the departure of the vessel be delayed if a new crew were shipped in the Red Cross, had asked merely that the departure of the vessel be delayed if a new crew were shipped in the Red Cross.

Capt. Rust came here to learn if Great Britain and France might not be persuaded to permit the vessel to take her present crew because of the familiarity with the ship. He was informed that both countries were particularly anxious that he be permitted to enter their ports at this time, a right clearly possessed by him as a belligerent.

RED CROSS SHIP STILL TIED UP.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The presence of Germans in the engine-room holds her.

Captain of Hamburg-American Steamer. Advised by Department of State to Employ Only Neutrals Among the Crew—Departure of Vessel May Be Delayed a Week.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The question raised by the British and French governments regarding the neutrality status of the steamer Red Cross if she carries Germans among her crew when she sails with surgeons, nurses and supplies for the battlefields of Europe, has delayed the departure of the ship. It was not believed in shipping circles tonight that the Red Cross would leave port tomorrow, as announced yesterday. Her commander, Capt. Arthur Rust, U.S.N., ordered to Washington today, and it was said that the purpose of his journey was to place the problem before Secretary Bryan.

The Red Cross, formerly the Hamburg-American liner, was chartered by that line, and has among her crew, stewards and sailors, a number of native Germans who have taken out their first papers, but not their final naturalization papers in the United States. It was reported today that if the Red Cross organization sought to employ these Germans with Americans and Spaniards, as announced yesterday, the ship would be withdrawn from the organization's service.

An official of the line said tonight it was not likely the Red Cross society would displace the Germans without seeking the line's permission, and that, since no such request had been received, the officials of the line would make no statement.

The Germans in the engine-room are familiar with the machinery and the officials of the Hamburg-American line, it was said, were reluctant to have them displaced. The chief engineer of the Red Cross today took the names of available engineers who applied for positions.

Three hundred thousand men have joined the regular army since the war began. The eagerness to enlist has grown steadily, and the number of volunteers actually been engaged with the enemy."

Another message received at the embassy officially denied recent reports that the British cruiser Bristol had been disabled in a fight with an unnamed German ship in southern waters.

(BY PACIFIC CABLE)
PEKING, Sept. 9.—A telegram from German sources states that the Japanese landed 20,000 men at Liao Kow (a town on the northern coast of the Shantung peninsula) and that they are now advancing toward Chao Yuan (a town about eighty miles north of Kiao-Chow). The Japanese censorship is complete. Even Chinese officials in the territory occupied by the Japanese are prevented from communicating freely with Peking while telegraphic communication with Tsing-tao has been interrupted for a week.

Mail advices from Tsing-tao, dated September 3, say the report that the Germans are compelling Chinese laborers to assist in the construction of defenses is untrue. The Chinese deserted Tsing-tao, expecting a bombardment of the city by the Japanese, but finding a livelihood outside the district of Kiao-Chow impossible, returned in great numbers.

Other Chinese reports declare that Japanese dressed as Chinese are appearing in the vicinity of Tsing-tao, while German scouts are watching the Japanese approach. At the request of Japan, the Chinese government, being anxious to preclude the possibility of a conflict, withdrew the Chinese soldiers from the Japanese military train.

The Russian Minister at Peking has received the consent of the Chinese government to the construction by Russian troops of a railway across the island of Sakhalin along the right bank of the Amur River to a point opposite Diavovetsk and thence to Harbin, with a branch to Tsetsihar.

WAR APPROPRIATION
PASSES JAP DIET.

(BY PACIFIC CABLE)
TOKIO, Sept. 9.—The Japanese Diet today adopted the war appropriation of the Japanese government. It provides for a war appropriation of $2,000,000 yen (about $14,500,000). The vote was unanimous.

The Japanese government announced today that Great Britain had informed France and Russia that the recent convention signed by the powers of the Triple Entente, in which it was agreed that none of the three would accept terms of peace without the previous consent of the other two, must not be regarded as modifying the British alliance with Japan, with whom Great Britain acts in common in the conduct of the war or in making peace.

REASONS JAPANESE DELAYED ACTION.

(A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE)
TOKIO, Aug. 15.—Japan's decision to send an ultimatum to Germany and thus extend the theater of war from Europe to Asia, was only reached after some division among the statesmen of the empire.

It was the genre, or elder statesman, who at first opposed Japanese participation. Extensive negotiations were necessary also between Great Britain and Japan before an accord was reached as to the sphere of Japan's action and the exact problem Japan was to carry out in the fulfillment of her alliance with England.

As soon as the war was declared between England and Germany, Japan mobilized her fleet in readiness for action and was soon after that several army corps were ordered to readiness for quick mobilization. The third Japanese squadron located at Shanghai was reinforced by several warships from the home fleet and a patrol was established in the historic straits of Lushan.

A flying squadron of seven cruisers was organized at Yokohama, while the battleship squadron at Sasebo was increased to eight big-gun ships, including the dreadnought Kongo and the new dreadnought Hiei.

COMMERCE AFFECTED.
Meantime Japan began to feel heavily the result of the war. Shipping was tied up and as many as 100 steamers of different nationalities were unable to leave port. Foreign commercial exchange practically ceased between Japan and China and Japan and Europe, bringing business to a standstill, while business with America was greatly affected.

All this time active negotiations were going on between Japan and England. Suddenly, on August 11, war was declared between the two nations. Japan was forced to the world stage by the declaration of war, and the Japanese government was to be carried on in the Pacific Ocean.

STATUS AFTER WAR.
Some discussion, it is said, also was held upon the question of Japan's status in the peace congress of Europe, to be held after the conclusion of the war.

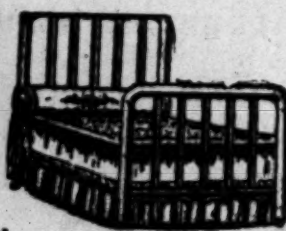

Another important factor in the situation was that the Japanese themselves were not in harmony as to Japan's attitude, but after a series of deliberations they reached unanimity.

As this correspondence is leaving, groups are being mobilized in different parts of the empire, including the 1st division of the army at Tokyo, and the 2nd division at Kobe, to convey Japan's army to the front. It is not improbable that some army corps will move down toward Kiao-Chow from Manchuria.

LONG DELAY FEARED.
Japanese do not seem to regard the reduction of Kiao-Chow as an easy matter. They do not, of course, give it any

JAPANESE ARMY NOW ADVANCING.

Twenty Thousand Men Landed, According to Dispatch.

German Scouts Are on the Watch for Invaders.

China Takes Precautions to Avoid Any Conflict.

PEKING, Sept. 9.—A telegram from German sources states that the Japanese landed 20,000 men at Lung Kow (a town on the northern coast of the Shantung peninsula), and that they are now advancing toward Chao Yuan (a town about eighty miles north of Kiao-Chow). The Japanese ownership is complete. Even Chinese officials in the territory occupied by the Japanese are prevented from communicating freely with Peking while telegraphic communication with Peking has been interrupted for a week.

Mail advices from Tung-tao, dated September 3, say the report that the Germans are compelling Chinese laborers to assist in the construction of defenses is untrue. The Chinese deserted Tung-tao, expecting a bombardment of the city by the Japanese, but finding a livelihood outside the district of Kiao-Chow impossible, returned in great numbers.

Other Chinese reports declare that Japanese dressed as Chinese are spying in the vicinity of Tung-tao, while German scouts are watching the Japanese approach. At the request of Japan, the Chinese government, being anxious to preclude the possibility of a conflict, withdrew the Chinese soldiers from the Japanese military train.

WAR APPROPRIATION PASSES JAP DIET.

TOKIO, Sept. 9.—The Japanese Diet today adopted the war programme of the Japanese government. It provides for a war appropriation of $1,000,000,000 (about $26,500,000). The vote was unanimous.

The Japanese government announced today that Great Britain has informed France and Russia that the recent convention signed by the powers of the Triple Entente, in which it was agreed that none of the three would accept terms of peace without the previous consent of the other two, must not be regarded as modifying the British alliance with Japan, with which Great Britain acts in common in the conduct of the war or in making peace.

REASONS JAPANESE DELAYED ACTION.

(BY P. FORREST CORRESPONDENT.)

TOKIO, Aug. 12.—Japan's decision to send an ultimatum to Germany and thus extend the theater of war from Europe to Asia, was only reached after some division among the members of the cabinet.

It was the senior, or elder statesman, who at first opposed Japan's participation. Extensive negotiations were necessary also between Great Britain and Japan before an accord was reached as to the sphere of Japan's action and the exact programme Japan was to carry out in the fulfillment of her alliance with England.

As soon as the war was declared between England and Germany, Japan mobilized her fleet in readiness for action and very soon after that several army corps were ordered in readiness for quick mobilization. The third Japanese squadron located at Shanghai was reinforced by several warships from the home fleet and a naval base was established in the historic bay of Yushima.

A flying squadron of seven cruisers was organized at Yokosuka with Admiral Fushimi in command, while the battleship squadron at Sasebo was increased to eight big-gun ships, including the dreadnought Kongo and the new dreadnought Hiei.

COMMERCE AFFECTED.

Shantime Japan began to feel heavily the result of the war. Shipping was tied up and as many as 100 steamers of different nationalities were unable to leave port. Foreign commercial exchange practically stopped between Japan and China and Japan and Europe, bringing business to a standstill, while business with America was greatly affected.

At this time active negotiations were going on between Japan and England. Suddenly, on August 11, when everybody in Japan had been prepared for a communication from the government regarding her participation in the hostilities, a halt came in the general activities.

This halt in the negotiations between Japan and England concerning the recent British desire to calm fears that might exist in China and in America that Japan had any designs on the territory of China. Great Britain was desirous that the world should not imagine that with the cessation of hostilities between Japan and America and the cessation of hostilities between Japan and England, Japan was to be contented in the Pacific Ocean.

STATUS AFTER WAR.

Some discussion, it is said, also was held in the question of Japan's status in the peace congress. It was to be held after the conclusion of the war.

TWO DISTURBANCES AT LASSEN PEAK.

ASHES FALL UPON MINERAL, TEN MILES FROM THE MOUNTAIN.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
REDDING, Sept. 9.—Lassen Peak continued in a state of eruption today, two violent disturbances occurring which were pronounced the greatest of the series, so far.

Clouds of ashes descended at Mineral, ten miles from the peak, and a plume-like pillar of smoke was visible for twice that distance. Several persons reported flames emanating from the crater, but the forest bureau's observer near the peak said he saw no fire. Today's eruptions occurred at 4:20 a.m. and 5 p.m.

REFUGEE CLERGY FIND A HAVEN.

FLEE TO SAN FRANCISCO TO ESCAPE YAQUIS.

Party of Catholic Priests, Lay Brothers and Sisters, Who Were Expelled from Colleges and Churches of Guadalajara by Constitutionalists, Arrive on Steamer.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—Expelled from colleges and churches of Guadalajara by the Constitutionalists, forty-five Spanish and French Catholic priests and lay brothers and forty-eight sisters of the Sacred Heart arrived in San Francisco today from Manzanillo aboard the Mexican steamer City of Mexico. Fearing annihilation by a band of Yaqui Indians reported to be riding on Manzanillo, the refugees were taken on board on the night of September 1.

When they left Guadalajara, illiterate Yaquis were in possession of the Jesuit and Marist Colleges there, together with the apparatus of the physical and chemical laboratories, and tossing valuable fables and furniture out of the windows. A piano brought in peace at a street sale, and a rare folio, one peso. Nor was the lady immune. Father Gerard de Corne, president of the College of the Society of Jesus, estimated that $7,000,000 was collected in two levies laid upon the wealthy. Their carriages were commandeered by the Yaquis, who rode about the city in boisterous delight.

As soon as the Constitutionalists entered Guadalajara they confiscated the property of the colleges, threw the priests, on charges of conspiracy, into solitary confinement where they were held six days by order of Gen. Manuel Diezgu, Governor of the State of Jalisco, and sequestered the nuns in private houses, where they were kept under surveillance.

On July 21 there were in all 200 priests and lay brothers, including Bishop Palencia of Tehuantepec, held in solitary confinement and dependent upon the charity of church members for subsistence. The excuse given for their imprisonment was that arms had been found in the Marist college. Explanation by the brothers that these were merely drill guns used to train the pupils was not accepted, although no ammunition was discovered.

After six days the priests and brothers were released from jail and housed in private houses like the nuns. On August 19 they were entrained for Colima under guard, and when the Constitutionalists lines were extended into Manzanillo they were conducted thither.

For the present they will be cared for by the Jesuit fathers of St. Ignace College, San Francisco, and the sisters of the Sacred Heart at Menlo Park.

Apart from their imprisonment the priests and sisters said they were treated, if not with respect, with some consideration. No brutality was shown.

THE WEATHER.

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Sept. 9.—(Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.) At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.65; at 5 p.m., 29.90. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 60 deg. and 70 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 90 per cent.; 5 p.m., 66 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., east, velocity 1 mile; 5 p.m., southeast, velocity 7 miles. Highest temperature, 77 deg.; lowest, 56 deg. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—Two well-defined areas of high barometric pressure overlie the United States. The valley of the Colorado River is the only region where the pressure is comparatively low. Clearing showers are reported from the valley of the Colorado and along the Colorado River. A further result of the steady rise in the barometer is noted in the slightly decreased temperature throughout most of the country. The possibility of the area of low pressure over the valley of the Colorado will give Los Angeles and vicinity a period of cloudy early Thursday morning, followed by the effect of the northwesterly high area will insure continued fair weather, with a slight increase in temperature, in this locality Thursday.

LOCAL FORECAST.
For Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair Thursday, except for intervals of cloud early in the morning; slightly warmer, northwesterly wind.
For California south of the Tehachas: Fair Thursday, except for intervals of cloud early in the morning; slightly warmer, northwesterly wind.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF DEVELOPMENTS YESTERDAY.
(At Home.) New York has made arrangements for the floating of a city loan of $100,000,000 and it is expected that there will be a considerable demand for these bonds abroad as bankers consider them an excellent investment. The regular dividends have been declared by the New York Central railroad and the Western Union Telegraph Company, and this has had a good effect in financial circles all over the United States.

(Abroad.) Foreign exchange continues active. The French ministry has announced a policy of advancing money to different towns for the purchase of supplies in cases where the municipal funds have been embarrassed. Berlin has announced its first war loan through the Imperial Bank. It will amount to $250,000,000.

FINE QUALITY.

There is nothing like enthusiasm unless it be the good judgment to turn a great deal into some proper channel. The keenest appetite for life goes to waste without the right purpose.

A DOG CAUSE.

If ever a candidate was doomed from the start that same is Francis Heney. His own broken party will not stand for him and certainly no other will. The Progressives will trade him off at every chance.

THE ART OF WAR.

Much has been written of late concerning the highly artistic temperament of Cesar Nicholas. Berlin may soon have an opportunity of studying the great artist at first hand since he has decided to lead his army in person in its attack on the German capital.

THE SOLDIER SPIRIT.

A veteran of the Civil War sang hymns at the Receiving Hospital in Los Angeles while physicians sought to save his life after an automobile truck had crushed the brave old soldier's legs. The gruff that sings when the fight is on is something America must never lose.

NOT SO SURE.

A dozen German officers have been sent to Constantinople. This would be paying exorbitant for the Germans if their representatives could be as sure of returning at the head of the Turkish troops as the English vessels are certain of returning from Russian ports with regiment after regiment of the Kaiser's men in arms. Europe will awaken some morning soon with the battle cry of the Slav in the air.

THE READ VICTORS.

If Russia keeps its promises to treat the Jews exactly as it would other Russians and to establish a reunited and an autonomous Poland in exchange for Polish loyalty to the Russian cause, then the Jews of that country and all of the Poles have more to gain from this war than almost any other people. We hope that Russia means all this and we greatly fear it finds it convenient to forget.

A DELICATE TASK.

St. Louis is trying the experiment of a department for backward pupils. It is well to study the health and home life of such children; but any attempt to place them in a class of their own would have an adverse psychological effect. It is a dangerous thing to make a child feel that it is considered any different from its fellows.

WOMAN'S SPHERE.

In England woman has ceased to be something to defend and has become someone for defense. The dispatches say that women are being recruited in London to defend their homes. Having been trusted with guns perhaps they will one day be entrusted with the ballot. Anyway, they will learn better methods of fighting than breaking windows, burning churches and destroying works of art.

STILL A CHANCE.

Let no one despair of his favorite team in the race for the pennant of the Pacific Coast League as yet. Portland has failed to hold its lead of several days ago. Its descent has been swift and sorrowful. It is true that our northern neighbor has a team remarkable for its fielding and slugging, but it would need at least two additional pitchers of the first class before it could be considered an invincible foe. The Los Angeles nine has a chance this week to oust Portland from first place.

JAPAN AND THE FUTURE.

Many eastern people say there is nothing in the published treaty between England and Japan to justify the present Japanese attitude. They assume, therefore, that England must have made some hasty new arrangement by which they have mortgaged the future. Others warn the United States that this generation of Americans has no business laying up trouble for the next, which we suppose is a way of saying that it is better to strain things a bit now and be sure of the future. Neither the attitude nor conduct of the Japanese as yet warrants anything to alarm. If they go no further than to take Kiaochow back and save it to purely oriental control they are doing no great damage to international politics or commerce. It was only the peculiar opportunity of Japan's defeat of China in 1894-95 which put Germany there in the first place.

OVERSEAS—THE SITUATION TO DATE.

They were still at it all day yesterday and last night—battling for advantage in the valleys of France, crossing and recrossing rivers, giving and taking cities and positions, as if fighting had become the great outdoor pastime of Europe in the same way that elections may be said to be the great outdoor sport of California. But nothing has been won by either side except vantage ground from which to continue the slaughter on the morrow and the next day and the next and perhaps for a week the dispatches say. Nevertheless the news has been favorable to the allies, according to a London resume of the war. "But military critics warn the public that the battle has not been won and that there will probably be a week or more of fighting before a decisive result is attained in either way."

A sad commentary on the effectiveness of modern arms and armament. The world had been misled to believe by military men that the "next great war" (the one now here) would be a short and sweet affair on account of the deadliness of the implements employed. But the public is coming to see the contrary is the case. A week or more of fighting before a decisive result may be expected.

The "claims departments" of the Petrograd and the Vienna war offices were busy again yesterday, each claiming victory where the other had already affirmed he had won. Fighting is still going on along the Russian and Austro-German frontiers. It is of a sanguinary character, too, enough to make the stoutest heart quail if attention were not so firmly riveted on the engagement between the allies and Germans in the west.

LOS ANGELES TO HELP THE WAR-SUFFERERS.

Charity recognizes no nationality. It concerns itself with humanity. And the women of Los Angeles who, under the auspices of the Red Cross Association, will receive garments at the Bronson building during the week beginning September 21, for distribution among the wounded soldiers and destitute women and children of the war zone, are not working in the interest of any race. The garments will be given out wherever they are needed.

On each garment that is sent out from Los Angeles will be a tag with the Red Cross and the inscription: "The garment of love with the prayer for peace in the memory of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson."

Information has come from the Red Cross workers across the sea that the conditions are terrible. Women and children are suffering, and wounded soldiers are lying in the same clothing in which they were shot down. In many places they have no covering. For that reason night shirts are especially needed, and all strong, warm garments will be gladly received.

Rags and cast-off clothing are not wanted, and will not be accepted. The women feel that it would be a disgrace to send such things from Los Angeles.

Money is not wanted. But hospital supplies, bandages, antiseptics and such are needed. All supplies donated will be sorted, packed and forwarded to New York on October 1, and from there sent to Europe in a Red Cross ship for distribution.

A similar movement is being pushed in other cities throughout the United States, and the appeal cannot fail to touch the sympathy of every person who gives an instant's sober consideration to the frightful conditions that exist in the war zone.

Hundreds of thousands of soldiers have been injured. Their own people are not in a position to amply provide for the innumerable wounded, or for those left destitute by the pillage and destruction of lands in the wake of fighting armies. And it is a duty that the more fortunate people of this country owe to humanity—this effort to relieve and mitigate the suffering of Europe.

FOR THE SAKE OF PEACE.

The future historian will tell that nineteen centuries after the Prince of Peace preached the doctrine of peace on earth and good will to mankind, seven great Christian nations of Europe, with a population of 368,258,735 souls and accumulated wealth amounting to $282,000,000,000, illustrated their devotion to the teachings of Jesus the Savior by murdering each other and destroying each other's property on land and sea.

No adequate explanation will be given, for none can be given, of this ferocious outbreak. The historian will find, says Dr. Jefferson in the Chicago Christian Century, "that the King of England was one of the truest friends of peace who ever sat on the English throne, that the German Emperor proclaimed repeatedly that the cause of peace was ever dear to his heart, that the Czar of Russia was so zealous in his devotion to peace that he called the nations to meet in solemn council to consider measures for ushering in an era of universal amity and good will, and that the President of France was not a whit behind his royal brethren in offering sacrifices on the altar of the Goddess of Peace." Four sovereign peacemakers linked lovingly together strolling down an avenue which they themselves had lined with lyddite shells and twelve-inch guns.

An international court was established to settle all differences without resort to arms. It's conclusions were accepted with enthusiasm by all the nations of Europe—and then all the nations voted to increase their armaments. Everybody conceded that it was better to settle international disputes by reason rather than by force, but as soon as the legal machinery was created by means of which the sword could be dispensed with there was a fresh fury to perfect at once all the instruments of destruction.

After each new peace conference, continues Dr. Gregory, "There was a fresh cry for more guns. Our historian will read with gladness the records of the Hague Conference, and of the laying of the foundation of a periodic Congress of Nations, and of a permanent High Court. He will note the neutralization of Switzerland, Belgium and Norway; the compact entered into by the countries bordering on the North Sea, to respect one another's territorial rights forever; the agreement of the same sort solemnly ratified by all the countries bordering on the Baltic; the signing of arbitration treaties; the elaboration and perfection of legal instruments looking toward the parliament of man, the federation of the world."

Peace was seen to be the one supreme blessing for the world, but—said the reasoners—to preserve the peace it was necessary to prepare for war. No guns were asked for to kill men with—guns were mounted as safeguards of the peace. No battleships were launched to fight with—they were preservers of the peace. Colonial armies and gigantic navies were exhibited as a nation's ornaments—beautiful tokens of its love of peace. And following thus the Angel of Peace, the nations increased their armaments until they spent upon them $2,000,000,000 every year, and had amassed national debts, aggregating $35,000,000,000. The expenditure crushed the poorest of the nations and crippled the richest of them, but the burden was gladly borne because it was a sacrifice for the cause of peace. It was a pathetic and thrilling testimony of the human heart's hatred of war and longing for peace, when the nations became willing to bankrupt themselves in the effort to keep from fighting.

Germany has 4,000,000 soldiers, Austria-Hungary has 1,640,000, Russia has 4,500,000, France has 3,000,000, Great Britain has 800,000, Belgium has 180,000, and Serbia 80,000. Fourteen millions of men are shooting and bayoneting one another for Christ's sake. Cities are given to the flames. Ships are sunk to the bottom of the ocean and fields grown with the weight of unburied dead—all to establish securely in Europe the doctrine that the Savior preached, of "peace on earth and good will to men."

NEXT YEAR FLOWER YEAR.

As the prospect of an unparalleled rush of visitors to the Pacific Coast becomes every day more certain, we must not forget the important part Los Angeles will play in entertaining the crowds coming from every State of the Union to view our two expositions. Every visitor to San Francisco and San Diego will for a dead certainty include Los Angeles in his itinerary.

We have promised in Los Angeles to show the world such a display of floral beauty as has never before been witnessed. We have got to make that promise good. This can only be done by taking unceasing advantage of the richness of climate and soil with which nature has blessed us. With a proper expenditure of work and money we can prove Los Angeles to be the flower heart of the universe. Every day now should find our citizens, as individuals and civic bodies, doing something to prepare for our great floral display of 1915.

Are you, Mr. Citizen, tending your roses and coaxing your seed beds, so that next summer your gardens may be a blaze of beauty, extraordinary even for this land of wondrous roses? Are we preparing in our parks and public places landscape effects by the introduction of novel artistic devices to make our eastern friends next year open their eyes wide with astonishment? Last spring we started the flower movement with characteristic Californian enthusiasm. We must not let that enthusiasm languish.

From every point of view we have had an ideal spring, summer and early fall. Nature has certainly encouraged flower growers and flower lovers to keep the good work going. Water was never so plentiful nor sunshine so kindly tempered. Next year is exposition year; it is also for Los Angeles flower year. There should be no slacking in our effort. All together; plant, cultivate, tend, prune, fertilize and study the books on gardening.

Surgical supplies are advancing in price. In fact they are so high that it must be a wealthy physician who can afford to sew a sponge in the hands of a patient.

RUMOR'S RED TONGUE.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

Let Mars bow from and instantly the cost of living swarms up another peg. Any excuse is good enough to warrant little old beef and wheat climbing up on the high seas.

Reliable details concerning the actual operations in the war zone are as scarce as bearded ladies, but nevertheless the fakers have been as busy as a one-armed bartender at a seagert's.

Early in the war game there was a harrowing story to the effect that nine German war vessels had been wholly obliterated by the British fleet in the North Sea. Whereupon sugar bounced up 20 to 25 per cent without further apology. The simple-minded consumer cannot see the immediate connection between a battered Prussian cruiser and a California beet ranch—but there you are.

A feverish plot extra proclaimed the story that Italy had abandoned her compact and would declare war on Austria. Instantly the price of lemons triplined up a dollar a box. Possibly the mere consumer could not grasp the point, but Mr. Wisconsin saw at once that should Italy get tangled up in her diplomacy and send troops to the front there might be a dearth of lemon pickers in Sicily. Or on the other hand if she cast her lot with the German alliance the British would not permit the good scow Garibaldi to get out of the Mediterranean with her load of yellow fruit. Anyhow, up she goes. Back on the soil the real producer did not profit materially by the advance, as Mr. Wisconsin had thoughtfully garnered his crop or contracted for the same at the old price. By the time the producer is again in position to go to market the figures will flop back.

On no other warrant than an effervescent story that Turkey had taken up arms in the cause of Germany the succulent prune moves up from being a mere commodity and becomes a luxury. Pretty soon we'll be eating alfalfa and cicoletas at our board-in-house instead of prunes. But does any immediate profit accrue to the simple California orchardist who produces the prune plum in all its Lucullan loveliness? Not so that you would notice it.

Harrowing, but unwarranted stories, in irresponsible prints telling of the assassination of Emperor Francis Joseph; of vast hordes of Russians crossing in transports from England to Belgium, and of the French soldiery eating the slaughtered horses of their cavalry are exploited by mercenary middlemen in their raid upon the consumer's purse. The producer is under anathema, but in reality derives little benefit. The rise always came when his output had been marketed or else so far in advance of his crop that normal conditions are restored before he gets a chance at it again.

The censorship of the Old World is blamed for the paucity of genuine news from the seat of war. Much fault is found there; nevertheless it would be well if there could be a censorship here over the vapory stuff that is supplied by hectic correspondents hiding under the cloak of irresponsibility. An efficient and spreading effort is being made to hold general advertisers down to the very marrow of their statements. The day has passed when an advertiser can declare that he has the most reliable and necessary article in the world—and get away with it. There seems to be an awakened conscience everywhere except in the careless bosom of the eruptive soothsayers who prepare news for the pinning and now extras of some of the daily prints. They are wholly reckless as to facts or consequences, and the glaring wrong of one flamboyant edition is forgotten and left uncorrected in the next. It is some gratification to realize that The Times has seriously endeavored to sift the chaff from the wheat and usually declines to exploit mere rumor for the sake of the sensation it would create if true. This policy will be understood and appreciated as the great drama goes on and in the long run it will be the policy of both profit and honor.

This old world embroilment is bad enough, but were it as bad as set forth in the black lines of some of the explosive extras it would be hell indeed.

THE NEW WOMAN.

[Florence Davies, in Cleveland Plain Dealer.] It is very common to hear people lament the fact that there is nothing new under the sun, and to hear them scorn the old things which are much talked about. But perhaps it is just as well that there are not any more new things than there are, because it takes some of us so long to learn the old ones.

"What is the use?" asked a woman the other evening in a drug store. "What is the use of trying to teach anybody anything? Why don't all the newspaper and magazine writers and all the infants' hospitals and dispensaries in the city just give up and quit—people will never learn, no matter how often they are told."

There they were, drawn up to the ice cream soda counter. The mother with a tiny baby on her arm—not in her arms, for it was literally tucked under one arm—and the young fellow ordering the soda waters. It was oppressively warm, and the baby, a wee mite of a whimpering thing, 2 or 3 months old, was tightly wrapped in a big white wool shawl.

It was after 9 o'clock—three hours after the presumable feeding time that marks a tiny baby's bedtime.

Yet it had been dragged to the drug store, wrapped up in twice as many clothes as it needed—and yet actually fed strawberry ice cream soda through a straw.

Without doubt it is a free country and there is no law against treating your offspring to ice cream soda at 9 o'clock at night, entirely regardless of its age.

But the fact remains it is a rather sad thing that in this age of enlightenment on such subjects, and in this day of much simple instruction on the printed page about the fundamental facts in the care of children, that such a phenomenon as the one quoted above could have been witnessed.

The only observation which remains to be made, in the face of things like these, is that we would do well not to look for any more new ideas. The old ones take a good deal of repeating before they are absorbed.

Servia's League of Death.

Servia has a remarkable organization known as the "League of Death." Enrolled in this society are thousands of women and the Servian men not in the regular army or in the reserve. All the members, both men and women, have sworn to give their lives for the country. The "League of Death" was called into being in 1908 at the time that Servia burst into flame against Austria's annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina. Ever since then the organization has been kept up. The women are drilled and given practice in the use of the rifle, many of them having developed into expert marksmen.

Relief for Mine Owners.
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—(To the Editor of The Times.) The unsettling influences on business, brought on by the war, have created a peculiar hardship to the prospectors and owners of disappointed copper and silver prospects.

Since the war was declared, there have been no quotations on copper, and the silver market is so uncertain that the mine owner is unable to take on new business and only pay partly for the silver value in the ores.

It is now drawing close to the time when mine owners are obliged by law to do $100 worth of work on each claim, with financial relief in their hands.

The requirement will cause many mine owners great hardship, or a possible loss of their property.

In 1893, the panic succeeding the depression, brought on an unfortunate condition to the silver miners of the country, and to save them from financial ruin, the authorities at Washington passed a law authorizing the Interior Department to suspend the requirement of this expenditure for a year, and it enabled many men to save their holdings who otherwise would have lost all.

The suspension of Congress is now drawing to a close, and they are passing measures of relief for many of the business men. Already bills have been passed giving banks exclusive privileges, and a bill before Congress now proposes that the government should use money in support of the cotton market and purchasing ships to relieve the shipping interests, while this relief that the miners would receive promptly, relief can be obtained for the present session alone.

The people throughout this section are interested in this matter, and would write to their Representatives once and ask that this annual "suspension" be omitted this year, and so that the relief can be obtained for that it is the owner's intention not to abandon the property located in his title to the same should not be lost.

I have written to several of my friends at Washington, and if the parties interested in unpatented locations, and promptly, relief can be obtained before the present session alone.

GRAND OPERA IN SPITE OF WAR.

NOTABLE SEASON PROMISED HERE NEXT WINTER.

President of National Company Back After Difficulties—Says This Country Will Succeed in Bringing Peace—Head of U.S.C. Oratory School Returns Safely.

"This is the land of mediation to which all of Europe is looking for the final solution of its present fearful troubles," said Carlo Marchetti, president of the National Grand Opera Company, who arrived home yesterday from Italy, where he has been signing up contracts with singers for a season on the Pacific Coast.

"It was rather remarkable in meeting men of affairs from different nations who were in Italy after the war started, to hear the unanimous opinion expressed that the United States would be the final arbiter for the warring nations," he said.

"The war will bring as many foreigners to America as possibly get away. Up to this time the American government has been necessarily slow helping its citizens to get away. There are hundreds of them at every port of Italy who are practically without resources or means to come home. Ships to transport them are lacking and had it not been for the good offices of Consul-General Jones at Genoa, I might still be abroad."

On the attitude of Italy in the war, Signor Marchetti said the sentiment is divided, but that the mass of the Italian people were against taking sides with either France or Germany. "They realize the enormity of the war and the cost of money and lives and prefer not to become involved," he said.

War will not prevent the appearance of a number of famous grand opera stars in Los Angeles this winter. Constantino, the renowned tenor; Giraldoni, a baritone of international fame; Pucci, one of the best-known sopranos singers of Europe; Romano, a distinguished young Russian tenor; Margaret Jarnum, a well-known Los Angeles girl; Evelina Parnell, a coloratura artist, are among the singers recruited for the company, which will be under the direction of Mario Lambardi.

"We will give to the Coast a season of opera that will never be forgotten and will not only produce the old standard scores, but have secured a number of new ones which have never been produced outside of possibly New York and Boston," he said.

"In this list are 'Cristoforo Colombo,' 'Romeo and Juliet,' 'Ruy Blas,' 'Nabucco,' 'Linda de Chamounix,' 'Lombardi' and several others. We will open the season in San Diego as a part of the opening exercises of the exposition and then will come to Los Angeles for a four-weeks engagement beginning January 11."

One of the most recent arrivals from the war zone is Miss Beulah Wright, head of the college of oratory of the University of Southern California. Accompanied by Miss Yoder, also of U.S.C., Miss Wright returned home Tuesday evening and yesterday reported for work.

Miss Wright was with a party of eleven who made a tour of Europe. They were following a carefully planned itinerary when war was declared and upset their programme. The party was in Lucerne, Switzerland, on July 30, when the trouble broke out and they left hastily for Heidelberg. Traveling became an expensive luxury and it will not long until the party found itself with only $2 altogether. They had sailed from Amsterdam to Flushing when the Great Eastern Railway came to their rescue, advancing them enough cash to pay their way to London. Miss Wright spent the highly of the treatment of stranded Americans in England.

The party came to the United States on the Olympic.

Paul M. Ogilvie, a son of J. S. Ogilvie, No. 1923 South Union avenue, wired from New York yesterday that he had arrived there safely from Europe, having crossed the Atlantic on the Philadelphia. When the war broke out he was in Luxemburg and was obliged to leave four trunks of personal effects there. In Paris he also had to relinquish some of his belongings and on arrival in New York he was traveling with only a grip. Going to his old place of residence, he discovered that it had been burned and with it his collection of law books and a few other belongings he had not taken abroad after completing his law course at Columbia University. He is returning to Los Angeles shortly.

BETWEEN CITY AND COUNTRY.

Places Containing Less Than Eight Thousand Population Are Classified by the Census as Country.

[Engineering News:] The census authorities draw the line between the country and the city at a population of 8000. Those dwelling in places with a population of 8000 or greater are classified as living in cities, while those living on farms or in towns and villages with less than 8000 population are classified as living in the country. On this basis the Census Bureau estimate shows that in the United States in 1914, 29,700,000 people are living in cities, and 59,100,000 are living outside cities.

In New England, the proportion of city dwellers is larger than in any part of the country, the proportion being roughly as 5 to 2, or 4,820,000 living in cities and 2,130,000 outside of cities. The proportion of rural population in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania is somewhat larger than in New England, notwithstanding the enormous concentration of population around New York City and Philadelphia. The figures for these three States are 12,500,000, in cities to 7,400,000 in the country.

In the States from Ohio to Wisconsin, which a generation ago were considered agricultural, are now about equal, there being about 9,000,000 of the former to 10,000,000 of the latter. In all the territory south of the Ohio and west of the Mississippi the rural population is far in excess; or, in other words, there are in the various sections from three to six dwellers in the country for every one person dwelling in the city. In the three States bordering on the Pacific Coast the city population again becomes prominent and the proportion of city dwellers and rural dwellers is about equal.

On the other hand, there are thousands of towns and villages scattered all over the country with from 1000 to 8000 population, which have public water supplies, public lighting systems, paved streets and sidewalks, municipal schools, facilities for public amusement and recreation, and other advantages of city life. The trend of population from the farms to the towns and villages during the past quarter century has been as notable as the growth of the large cities.

If, then, a comparison were made between the dwellers on farms and those who are living in either cities or villages, the total population living where they have the advantages of community life would be far greater than the census estimate of nearly 40,000,000 city dwellers.

Woman Painfully Burned by Gas-Burner Fire.

Bonds to Pay Teachers to Be Voted on Friday.

Posse Unsuccessfully Seeks Skeleton in Black.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
PASADENA, Sept. 9.—Heating water to make a compress to relieve a sore throat almost cost Mrs. Joseph Henry of No. 55 West Green street, her life early yesterday morning. As she applied the match to the gas burner on her kitchen stove the flame enveloped her, setting fire to her kimono.

With rare presence of mind she grabbed a wet towel and wrapped it about her face. Then frantically tearing at her clothing she threw the flaming kimono from her. It set fire to the curtains in the kitchen and to the contents of the closet.

She screamed for her daughter who came to her assistance and tore the balance of her clothing off, burning her hands in the act.

The interior of the kitchen and the rear rooms of the house were ablaze. For when Mrs. Henry threw the towel from her face it was in flames and the flames communicated to the bed clothing.

The fire department put out the fire which damaged the house to the extent of $800. Mrs. Henry was burned about the back and arms, her eyebrows singed and her hair burned. The wet towel wrapped about her face saved her eyesight.

SCHOOL BOND ELECTION.
A school bond election will be held Friday to raise a fund of $24,000 to pay the outstanding salaries of teachers.

The Board of Education yesterday issued a statement giving the reasons for the election of the bond. The statement sets forth that the proceeds of the bond issue will be used in paying the salaries of the teachers unavoidably incurred last year. It is expected that the bonds will carry without opposition.

SKELETON IN BLACK.
Somewhere in Rubio canyon there is a "skeleton in black"—all but his jaw bone. That is in the possession of Deputy Coroner Leon Henry and deputy sheriffs Blaisdell and Anderson. All last night they searched for the remains which lie in the brush on the mountain side.

With them in the search were the three Los Angeles boys, who discovered the remains on Monday. The two other men. When taken into the canyon by the deputies the boys lost all sense of distance and surroundings and could not locate the spot where they had come across the skeleton.

After spending the night at Alpine Tavern the party started out again yesterday morning to scour the hills. At last they gave up baffled and returned to Pasadena. All that the discoverer has is the jaw bone and the knowledge that somewhere in the mountainous fastnesses the skeleton dressed in black lies secreted.

Troubles Vanish

With Magic Effect, Great Remedy Makes Disease Disappear.

At almost any drug store you may obtain S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. But then have the venerable old remedy that makes all blood troubles vanish. Your stomach looks kindly to S. S. S., it rushes into your blood, it purifies your blood, it cleanses the liver, kidneys, bladder and skin with harmony; stops accumulations that have caused rheumatism, eczema, swollen glands, and throat and skin eruptions.

Just as food makes blood, so does S. S. S. follow the process of digestion to stimulate natural secretions to protect us against the ravages of disease germs. We are well aware of the fact that these germs are set to work to break down the body in violent eruptions of the skin whenever the system is in a low state of resistance. And it is to both prevent these eruptions or to get rid of them that Nature gave us such an ally as S. S. S. It is purely vegetable, contains no mercury, and yet overcomes those serious troubles for which mercury has been employed for ages. In every community are people who know this. Read the folder around the bottle that tells of the wonderful work being done by the medical department in assisting users of S. S. S. ACROSS BORDER.

Wealthy Canadian May Be Prisoner in Mexico.

British Vice-Consul Asked to Make Inquiry.

California Dry Signs Are Demolished by Wets.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
LONG BEACH, Sept. 9.—Fearing that her son, A. P. Thomas, a wealthy retired jeweler of Winnipeg, is imprisoned in the cuartel at Juarez, Mex., Mrs. E. Thomas of the Allison apartments has appealed to C. White Mortimer, British Vice-Consul at Los Angeles, for aid in releasing him or locating him if her surmise is not correct.

Mrs. Thomas, her son and a daughter, all came from Winnipeg last winter to pass a few months at the Allison apartments. Mrs. Thomas, who is a business woman in Winnipeg, decided to accompany him on his trip through Arizona and Texas, and sent a postcard from Juarez on April 27. That was the last word received from him.

Chief of Police Cook thinks Mrs. Thomas may be right in supposing that her son is in the Mexican cuartel, either at Juarez or in the Cuernavaca charge. He has written to the Police Chief at El Paso, asking him to take the matter up with the British Consul at Juarez.

Thomas, although a man of money, seldom carried a large sum of money with him. He is described as aged 42 years, 5 feet 11 inches tall, 175 pounds, smooth shaven, brown hair and blue eyes.

Another disappearance reported to the police was that of a salesman for C. C. Lord, manufacturer, who has not been heard from in two months. The salesman had been in the habit of reporting every day. The father of the missing man has gone to Kansas City to try and locate him.

DEMOLISHING SIGNS.
Prohibitionists have complained to the police that placards and signs on boards advocating "California Dry" are being destroyed in various parts of the city. A. W. Hayworth, No. 1387 East Broadway, states that the "dry" signs were demolished in the northern and western sections.

Neighbors at Fourth and Locust streets say that a large number of men drove up to the large sign there and tore it to pieces. The police will endeavor to catch these vandals.

INDO-CHINA.
The Long Beach Hotel and Apartment-house Association, composed of owners of nearly one hundred hotels and rooming-houses here, have inaugurated the project of the purchase of the Drake property and the building of a municipal convention hall.

W. R. Shively addressed the meeting of the Auditorium Association. He denied the rumor that the project would be withdrawn, and his statement that the project was the only auditorium plan now before the city was heartily concurred in by the hotel people.

BEACH BRIEFS.
The fleet of three score launches which chase the albatrosses in the harbor for the Long Beach and San Pedro tuna canneries report that the big production of this egg-producing species will be materially reduced this winter. There must be a lot of chicken ranches being started, for there is a big demand for young hens. Buyers have been going from farm to farm and chicken ranches, looking for young birds that can be depended upon to lay.

One Long Beach man bought over $500 pullets and young hens here, paying $1.25 apiece for most of them. C. W. McNaughton, who handles poultry, says that other buyers are making inroads upon the local roosts, with the result that McNaughton is persuaded that Orange County will ship fewer eggs this year.

However, the decrease will be only temporary, for incubators and setting hens will be working overtime to make up the loss.

"I think eggs will be higher this season than ever before," said McNaughton.

In handling the new bean and walnut crops, the packing-houses are observing the same old formula on weight and measure. This is the first year that each bag of produce had to be weighed, and the exact weight marked on the bag.

McPhee, County Sealer of Weights and Measures, today visited the bean warehouse at Buena Vista, where 400 cartons of lima and black-eyed beans will be shipped, and the warehouse at Buena Vista, which will ship twenty-five cartons.

The cars will ship altogether 125 cars of beans.

Under the Federal law the shippers find that they must make their bags of uniform weight. The standard weight set here for walnuts is 100 pounds to the bag; for lima beans, eighty pounds; and for black-eyed beans, seventy-five pounds.

The Board of Supervisors has let contracts for two concrete bridges. One is across the Santa Ana River between Olive and Anaheim, and the other across Coyote Creek on the Los Alamitos bridge.

The Santa Ana bridge is to be built by Torrance and Stoecker for $20,822 and the Coyote Creek bridge to Earl F. Low Company for $15,118.

ESCONDIDO GRAPE DAY.
Thousands visit San Diego County Annual Festival—Tons of Grapes Are Disposed.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
ESCONDIDO, Sept. 9.—People from all parts of Southern California, including 3000 from San Diego, half of whom came in automobiles, helped Escondido celebrate its seventh annual Grape Day today.

A display of the flora of the valley, under the auspices of the Floral Society, a new organization, and the presentation of an elaborate program of singing and instrumental music, were new features. A series of sporting events was conducted.

Tons of muscat grapes were dispensed from tables underlaid with ice, with the additional distribution of 6000 two-pound boxes to the guests upon their departure.

INDO-CHINA.
The Long Beach Hotel and Apartment-house Association, composed of owners of nearly one hundred hotels and rooming-houses here, have inaugurated the project of the purchase of the Drake property and the building of a municipal convention hall.

W. R. Shively addressed the meeting of the Auditorium Association. He denied the rumor that the project would be withdrawn, and his statement that the project was the only auditorium plan now before the city was heartily concurred in by the hotel people.

BEACH BRIEFS.
The fleet of three score launches which chase the albatrosses in the harbor for the Long Beach and San Pedro tuna canneries report that the big production of this egg-producing species will be materially reduced this winter. There must be a lot of chicken ranches being started, for there is a big demand for young hens. Buyers have been going from farm to farm and chicken ranches, looking for young birds that can be depended upon to lay.

One Long Beach man bought over $500 pullets and young hens here, paying $1.25 apiece for most of them. C. W. McNaughton, who handles poultry, says that other buyers are making inroads upon the local roosts, with the result that McNaughton is persuaded that Orange County will ship fewer eggs this year.

However, the decrease will be only temporary, for incubators and setting hens will be working overtime to make up the loss.

"I think eggs will be higher this season than ever before," said McNaughton.

In handling the new bean and walnut crops, the packing-houses are observing the same old formula on weight and measure. This is the first year that each bag of produce had to be weighed, and the exact weight marked on the bag.

McPhee, County Sealer of Weights and Measures, today visited the bean warehouse at Buena Vista, where 400 cartons of lima and black-eyed beans will be shipped, and the warehouse at Buena Vista, which will ship twenty-five cartons.

The cars will ship altogether 125 cars of beans.

Under the Federal law the shippers find that they must make their bags of uniform weight. The standard weight set here for walnuts is 100 pounds to the bag; for lima beans, eighty pounds; and for black-eyed beans, seventy-five pounds.

The Board of Supervisors has let contracts for two concrete bridges. One is across the Santa Ana River between Olive and Anaheim, and the other across Coyote Creek on the Los Alamitos bridge.

The Santa Ana bridge is to be built by Torrance and Stoecker for $20,822 and the Coyote Creek bridge to Earl F. Low Company for $15,118.

Wealthy Canadian May Be Prisoner in Mexico.

British Vice-Consul Asked to Make Inquiry.

California Dry Signs Are Demolished by Wets.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
LONG BEACH, Sept. 9.—Fearing that her son, A. P. Thomas, a wealthy retired jeweler of Winnipeg, is imprisoned in the cuartel at Juarez, Mex., Mrs. E. Thomas of the Allison apartments has appealed to C. White Mortimer, British Vice-Consul at Los Angeles, for aid in releasing him or locating him if her surmise is not correct.

Mrs. Thomas, her son and a daughter, all came from Winnipeg last winter to pass a few months at the Allison apartments. Mrs. Thomas, who is a business woman in Winnipeg, decided to accompany him on his trip through Arizona and Texas, and sent a postcard from Juarez on April 27. That was the last word received from him.

Chief of Police Cook thinks Mrs. Thomas may be right in supposing that her son is in the Mexican cuartel, either at Juarez or in the Cuernavaca charge. He has written to the Police Chief at El Paso, asking him to take the matter up with the British Consul at Juarez.

Thomas, although a man of money, seldom carried a large sum of money with him. He is described as aged 42 years, 5 feet 11 inches tall, 175 pounds, smooth shaven, brown hair and blue eyes.

Another disappearance reported to the police was that of a salesman for C. C. Lord, manufacturer, who has not been heard from in two months. The salesman had been in the habit of reporting every day. The father of the missing man has gone to Kansas City to try and locate him.

DEMOLISHING SIGNS.
Prohibitionists have complained to the police that placards and signs on boards advocating "California Dry" are being destroyed in various parts of the city. A. W. Hayworth, No. 1387 East Broadway, states that the "dry" signs were demolished in the northern and western sections.

Neighbors at Fourth and Locust streets say that a large number of men drove up to the large sign there and tore it to pieces. The police will endeavor to catch these vandals.
